How to share HP Click settings and printers with other users

To share your HP Click settings and printers with others, you need to copy files from your computer and send them to the other users.

These are the steps to follow:

1. First, open HP Click and set up your printers and settings. You can add as many printers as you want and select your desired print settings, including quality, color mode, layout, and alignment, for every single printer.
2. Go to the %appdata%\hpclick folder on your computer and copy the following JSON files:
 - printersettings.json
 - printers.json
 - tour.json
 - userpref.json
3. Next, send those files to the same folder on the other computers. You can send the files however works for you, be that email, cloud storage, or network share.
4. Other users can open HP Click and print with the same settings and printers that you have. They can also change them if they want.
